EXTRACT FROM THE UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION
LAW OF NEW JERSEY

(Applicable to Reports Due Before April 1, 1938.)

Any employer, who shall fail to file any * * * report and pay the contributions on or before the date they are due, shall pay a penalty of one dollar ($1.00) for each day from such due date until the report shall be filed with the Commission and, in addition thereto, shall pay interest at the rate of one per centum (1%) a month on the unpaid contributions from such due date until the date of payment thereof with the accrued interest thereon. (Section 14 (a), prior to amendment.)

(Applicable to Reports Due On or After April 1, 1938.)

Any employer who shall fail to file any report, required by the Commission or the executive director, on or before the last day for the filing thereof shall pay a penalty of one dollar ($1.00) for each day of delinquency until and including the tenth day following such last day and, for any period of delinquency after such tenth day, a penalty of one dollar ($1.00) a day or twenty per centum (20%) of the amount of the contributions due and payable by the employer for the period covered by the report, whichever is the lesser. If there be no liability for contributions for the period covered by any contribution report or in the case of any report other than a contribution report, the employer or employing unit shall pay a penalty of one dollar ($1.00) a day for each day of delinquency in filing or fifteen dollars ($15.00), whichever is the lesser. Any employer who shall fail to pay the contributions due for any period on or before the date they are required by the Commission to be paid, shall pay interest at the rate of one per centum (1%) a month on the amount thereof from such date until the date of payment thereof. (Section 14 (b), subsequent to amendment.)
